

Preserving Your Catalog Lists

- Login to catalog.ncls.org
- In the top menu, select My Lists.

- From the menu on the right, choose the list you'd like to save.

- Select the items from that list that you would like to save. To save the entire list, check the box next to the drop-down menu.

- The drop-down menu gives 2 options to save the list to an outside source.
Email or Print:

- Selecting EMAIL will prompt you for an Email Address & optional Subject Line.

Email Address :
 Subject :

- Selecting PRINT, the list will open a new tab with a print-friendly list, ready to print from the browser. (How to do this varies by browser, but pressing CTRL-P is a keyboard shortcut that works in most programs.)

NOTE:

The Email will provide a more detailed list, but the links will no longer work once the new catalog goes live.

Email:

New beginnings

Title New beginnings Rachel Yoder, always trouble somewhere ;
Title New beginnings
Personal Author Brunstetter, Wanda E. author.
Publisher Info Uhrichsville, OH : Barbour Publishing, Inc., [2008]
Physical Description 156 pages ; 20 cm.
Series Rachel Yoder, always trouble somewhere ; 4 Rachel Yoder, always trouble somewhere ; bk. 4.
General Note Includes glossary of Pennsylvania Dutch words and a color-and-cut doll.
Abstract Rachel Yoder has been out-of-sorts ever since her best friend moved away. What will she do without her sore nose, and a rotten attitude. As things go from bad to worse, Rachel is in danger of losing more than one friend.
Subject Term Yoder, Rachel (Fictitious character) -- Juvenile fiction. Amish children -- Juvenile fiction. Amish -- Geographic Term Amish Country (Pa.) -- Juvenile fiction. Pennsylvania -- Juvenile fiction.

Library	Call Number	Material Type	Status
Hopkinton Reading Center	J BRUN	Juvenile Fiction Book	Contact library for Availability
Richville Free Library	J BRUN	Juvenile Fiction Book	Available on the Shelf

Print:

New beginnings
 Brunstetter, Wanda E. author.
NCLS Call Number J